

Orangerie Museum, Tuileries gardens, Paris

Six great intellectuals recently described the museum chosen and arranged by Claude Monet to showcase his “testamentary” masterpieces as “Unique in its genre”.

Next to the Nymphéas, “the haven of peaceful meditation”, a gift to modern man with his “overworked nerves”, the Orangerie offers a fabulous concentration of masterpieces from the Jean Walter and Paul Guillaume Collection, a highly original insight into modern art featuring Cézanne, Renoir, Picasso, Rousseau, Matisse, Derain, Modigliani, Soutine, Utrillo and Laurencin.

Closed for renovation work since January 2000, completely reviewed and restructured, the museum was reopened to the public in May 2006.

Practical information

Musée de l'Orangerie
Jardin des Tuileries
75001 Paris
tel.: +33 (0)1 44 77 80 07
information-orangerie@culture.gouv.fr

Opening times

Open everyday, except Tuesdays, 1st May and 25th December

Individual visitors: 12.30-7 p.m., 9 p.m. on Fridays

Groups: 9 a.m.-12.30 p.m., reservations only

Reservations should be made in writing to Musée de l'Orangerie / group reservations (FAX: +33 (0)1 44 77 81 12)

Groups wishing to listen to a lecture in the museum's exhibition rooms should wear audiophones, except children and special dispensations.

Access

metro: 1, 8, 12 Concorde station

Bus: 24, 42, 52, 72, 73, 84, 94 Concorde stop

Car parks: jardin des Tuileries and Carrousel
(access via quai des Tuileries or rue de Rivoli)

Rue du Mont-Thabor, rue des Pyramides

Rates

Subject to modification

Entry fee

Full rate: € 6.50

Reduced rate: € 4.50

€ 1.20 surcharge for temporary exhibitions

Free entry on the first Sunday of each month

Lecture (1 hour 30)
Individual visitors
full rate: € 6.5
reduced rate: € 5

Groups
full rate: € 130
reduced rate: € 99
school rate: € 65

Events

Temporary exhibitions are presented on the lower ground floor.

In the audiovisual room, on the lower ground floor, there are non-stop screenings of documentary films connected to the permanent collections and temporary exhibitions.
Conferences - four to five per exhibition - are organized in conjunction with the exhibitions, on Fridays at 7 p.m. (one hour long).

Lecturer-guides are available to guide the public through the permanent collections and temporary exhibitions.

Detailed programmes available from the information counter.

Services

Audioguide

A selection of works commented in French, English, German, Spanish, Italian, Japanese, Chinese and a version for the visually impaired
full rate: € 5
reduced rate: € 3

Reception of disabled persons

The museum is accessible to people in wheelchairs; wheelchairs may be borrowed.
Disabled persons may visit during public opening hours or may ask for a special organised visit.

Bookshop

9 a.m. – 6.30 p.m., 8.30 p.m. on Fridays